NO HOPE FOR PLANE CRASH SURVIVORS

By EDDY GILMORE
SHANNON, Ireland (AP)—All hope was given up today of finding any survivors among the 99 persons aboard the Dutch airliner that crashed in the stormy Atlantic off Ireland's coast.
The Canadian destroyer Crusader announced the hunt was being abandoned after a thorough search of the area, where the New York-bound KLM airliner crashed Thursday, failed to show any sign of life.
Ships of five nations had scoured the crash scene, picking up bodies and wreckage.
By noon today, 35 bodies had been recovered from a square mile of floating debris found about 100 miles west of Ireland's Galway Bay.
An undertaker said the first bodies brought ashore were in "pretty bad shape, indicating an explosion on board the plane."
A ship which recovered five bodies said only one—that of a boy—was wearing a lifebelt.
The search went forward under a bright sun. The seas were calm after Thursday's storm.
The deaths of all 99—including 31 Americans—would be the highest toll of any single-plane commercial accident. The American-built Super-Constellation was the first commercial plane to go down at sea on the North Atlantic route flown by more than five million persons since World War II.
KLM began an investigation to find out why the plane crashed without even a radio report of trouble.
Eight 607E from Amsterdam to New York was last heard from 35 minutes after taking off from Shannon Airport for Gander, Nfld., after a refueling stop. Capt. F. A. E. Roelofs radioed that it was flying normally at 16,000 feet.
Then silence. Some 10 hours later a British airline pilot saw spots on his radar screen. A Royal Air Force patrol plane flew over and sighted wreckage.
The French trawler General Le Clerc sped to the scene and picked up eight bodies.
The British tanker B. P. Distributor picked up another three bodies plus a passport, personal papers and other flotsam. Twelve other ships hurried into the area.

Lancaster Is in Deep Mourning Over Sea Tragedy

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Shocked relatives and friends gave way to deep mourning today as word reached this Pennsylvania Dutch country no survivors have been found from the Dutch airliner which crashed with 99 aboard.
Fifteen of the passengers aboard the KLM plane, which crashed Thursday in the Irish sea, were from the Lancaster-Lebanon area. Most were members of the Church of the Brethren. The church had sponsored a trip to Kassel, Germany to observe the 25th anniversary of the founding of their church.
Each family had its own sad story to tell. Mrs. Thaddeus Groff of nearby Liberty Square mourned the loss of her two young daughters, Joy, 24, a nurse at Coatesville Hospital, and Rose, a (Turn to Page Seven)

Death in 1955 of Indiana Businessman Enters Probe Of the Senate Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Indianapolis lawyer testified today Dave Probstein was a scared man, apparently involved with dangerous men, the day before Probstein mysteriously disappeared.
Probstein, an Indianapolis business man and attorney, dropped from sight on a trip to St. Louis June 6, 1955. Police fear he was slain.
Joseph G. Wood, an Indianapolis attorney, told the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee that Probstein called him to his home on June 5.
He said Probstein told him he was about to undertake a dangerous mission from which he might not return, and asked him to help look after the interests of Mrs. Probstein if the worst should come.
Wood pictured Probstein as secretive about the exact nature of the danger.
Earlier testimony was that Probstein had got a loan from Hoffa in connection with establishing a taxi company in Indianapolis. The loan was $8,000.
Robert F. Kennedy, counsel to the committee, told newsmen as today's session began that a good deal of money figured in the presumed death of Probstein.
There has been testimony also that a threat and ultimatum was delivered to Probstein shortly before he disappeared.
The threat and ultimatum story was related to the committee Thursday by Betty Starett, an Indianapolis secretary. She was a surprise witness in the committee hearings on relations between Probstein and James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union.
Miss Starett also said she had heard Zappas threaten to kill Probstein. But she said that was Zappas' normal way of speaking.
As for the alleged ultimatum, the blonde secretary said three Chicago men met with Probstein in May 1955 and ordered him to deliver some records and money by the first week of June "or else."
Probstein disappeared June 6, 1955.
Miss Starett said she overheard the ultimatum in the offices of the Aldor Insurance Agency of Indianapolis where she worked. She identified the three men as Dorfman, Phil Goodman and Alvin Baron, all of Chicago.
The witness said Probstein once headed the Aldor agency, which she described as closely connected with Teamster members in Indianapolis. She said Baron and Dorfman, an insurance man linked with the Teamsters in past testimony, were associated in the agency. Goodman was identified as a lawyer.
In questioning Miss Starett about the alleged ultimatum, Kennedy asked: "Was any money mentioned?"
"In the amount of $6,000," she answered.
Hoffa has testified he scarcely knew Probstein, but nevertheless made a loan that helped Probstein establish a new taxicab firm in Indianapolis, called the State Cab Co.
Hugh Wagner, the tax firm's former manager, testified that Zappas and Gene San Soucie, president of Indianapolis Teamster Local 135, seized control of the firm in December 1954. Miss Starett told a similar story.

Middle East Plan Blasted In Red Paper

By ROY ESSOYAN
MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, today said President Eisenhower's Middle East plan today was a two-faced attempt to bait Arab peoples into accepting U. S. domination. It added, however, his economic plan was basically a good idea.
The paper led a barrage of press denunciations against the Eisenhower plan with a front-page editorial and special commentary. Moscow radio and Izvestia, Red Star and other Soviet papers joined.
The attacks gave every indication that the Soviet U. N. delegation will fight U. S. proposals all the way.
The brunt of Soviet attacks were against the U. S. proposals for economic development in the Middle East and an expanded U. N. police force in that area.
The overriding theme of all editorial commentaries and broadcasts was a demand for the immediate withdrawal of U. S. and British forces from Lebanon and Jordan.
Pravda said Eisenhower's economic plan of the Middle East—"loudly advertised in advance"—was basically a good idea but its timing shows "perfectly clear it is aimed only at distracting attention from the main problem—immediate withdrawal of U. S. and British forces from Lebanon and Jordan."
"The desire to help Arab peoples, if only it were sincere, could only be welcomed, but the form in which it was presented arouses grave fears," Pravda said.

Prices on Electric Alloy Are Increased

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corp. today increased by three per cent prices on most of its electric alloy metals.
A company spokesman said the adjustments are in line with price revisions announced recently by basic steel firms.
The price hike covers most products used in magnetic and electronic applications, such as sheets, strips and wire products. Most of the products are big dollar items but represent a comparatively small tonnage.

PENTAGON IS CENTER OF HOT DEBATE

By PAUL DUKE
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today described as ridiculous nonsense any thought that the United States might surrender to an enemy in the event of atomic war.
Reacting to published reports of such a study, Eisenhower authorized his press secretary, James C. Hagerty, to say:
"As far as the President is concerned all this talk about surrender is nonsense."
The whole subject was heatedly debated in the Senate Thursday night, with Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) of the Armed Services Committee leading a fight against voting any funds for possible surrender study purposes.
"There has been no public money spent to study how or when the United States might surrender," Hagerty said. "There will be no such money spent for such a purpose."
Hagerty said Eisenhower, after approving the prepared statement, authorized him to say in addition:
"Even if he, Eisenhower, were given money for this purpose it would not be spent. The whole matter is too ridiculous for any further comment."
The subject set off a veritable storm of criticism in speeches Thursday night. At one point an attempt was made to close the galleries to the press and public because of the seriousness of the topic. But it wasn't done.
The United States has never lost a war and the legislature were indignant that the military should be having even the slightest thought of any American surrender.
Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) proposed tacking onto a $3,594,000,000 supplemental appropriations bill a rider that would nullify any surrender study contract and bar any payments in connection with it.
At the White House, press secretary James C. Hagerty said President Eisenhower "certainly wouldn't agree to any talk about surrender of the United States." Hagerty said Eisenhower had ordered an immediate investigation of the reports about the surrender study.
But even as the furor raged there was no solid confirmation that the Pentagon was undertaking any special surrender study. A spokesman would only say that it was standard military practice (Turn to Page Seven)

Strange Murder In Georgia Is Finally Closed

JEFFERSON, Ga. (AP)—The strange murder case of Charles H. Drake Sr. has been cleared up more than two years after the 60-year-old Jefferson merchant was shot to death during a robbery.
Here's what happened in Superior Court Thursday:
A. D. Allen Jr., a 37-year-old bootlegger who formerly lived in Wincker, Ga., was convicted of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment as an accomplice in the Drake death.
Charles Paul (Rocky) Rothschild, 33-year-old former policeman from Cairo, Ill., entered a plea of guilty to the murder and was sentenced to life imprisonment.
James Fulton Foster, 40-year-old house painter from Greer, S.C., was acquitted by directed verdict and walked from the court room a free man. He twice had been sentenced to death in the Drake slaying.
Allen, who now is serving a five-year liquor sentence in the Atlanta federal prison, was convicted by a Jackson County Superior Court jury after it deliberated 21 hours and 50 minutes.
Rothschild, who is serving a five-year robbery-conspiracy sentence in South Carolina, signed a confession July 4 admitting he fired the fatal shots at Drake's home June 19, 1956.
TRUCKER KILLED

First Moonbound Rocket May Be On Its Way Sunday

By JOHN A. BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Science has made a date with that mysterious lady, the moon. But will it be able to keep it?
As early as next Sunday, scientific marksmen hope to set off the first moonbound rocket. But they will consider themselves lucky indeed if they bring off a rendezvous.
Here are some of the problems they must solve:
The moon is at least 220,000 miles out in space. But scientists must aim at any empty point, 137,000 miles ahead of the moon's course, and hope that both moon and rocket arrive at about the same time. That would be about 2 1/2 days after firing.
Granted perfect aim—and you can imagine what a small error could do in 200,000-plus miles—the three-stage rocket still must fire perfectly. This means boosting its speed to about 25,000 miles an hour needed to escape the earth's gravity.
Given this initial speed, the rocket will gradually slow under gravity's pull until nearing the moon, it will be traveling only about 3,000 miles an hour. In fact, its average speed for the trip may be only about 5,000 miles an hour.
The speed is important. If the rocket slows too quickly, it will fall short of its objective. If it doesn't slow enough, it can zoom past and on into space.

Situation in Formosa Strait Area Critical

TAIPEI (AP)—America's top commander in Formosa today described the situation in the Formosa Strait area as a powder keg one in which "anything could and might happen."
But Vice Adm. Roland N. Smoot told newsmen he doesn't think there will be an attack on Formosa. If the Reds do attack, he asserted, the United States will fully live up to its treaty commitment to defend the Nationalist Chinese island.
Smoot compared the increased activity of Communist jets over the Formosa Strait in the past days with probing by infantry. He said if this is followed by bombing and strafing of the Nationalist offshore islands, coupled with troop movements and concentration of invasion ships and bombers, then the situation will be quite serious.

Allegheny Judge Hands Five Boys Stiff Sentences

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Criminal Court Judge Ann X. Alpern said today "the treatment of young men as boys and children is one of the reasons why the administration of justice has failed."
The jurist made the statement as she imposed additional sentences on five youths already serving workhouse sentences for a series of burglaries. The five, ranging in age from 19 to 23, pleaded guilty to additional burglaries.
When an attorney mentioned the five were "boys," Judge Alpern declared:
"These are not boys. They are men and should be treated as men. Every time we deal with anyone who looks young we are inclined to treat him as a boy or young child. There has been too much sympathy and too little punishment."
The five, already serving six-month terms imposed last April 25 for a series of Westmoreland County burglaries, pleaded guilty to a series of burglaries in Allegheny County.
They are Jacob H. Jessup, 21; William E. Airgood, 23; William C. McWhinney, 21, and Dan L. Pizzuto, Jr., 19, all of Pitcairn, and Richard Savers of Turtle Creek.
Savers and Airgood received additional sentences of 4 to 8 months. The others were sentenced to an additional 6 months.

Woman Accused Of Plotting Her Husband's Death

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Frances Marjorie Miller, 31, of Washington, Pa., faces grand jury action on a charge of solicitation to commit a felony after police accused her of trying to have her husband, William, 34, killed for a $500 fee.
Mrs. Miller, an attractive mother of a seven-year-old boy, pleaded guilty to the charge Thursday before an alderman and was freed on $500 bond.
According to Dist. Atty. Michael A. Hanna, Mrs. Miller last week approached a young man whom officers declined to identify and asked him to shoot her husband during a fake robbery.
Hanna said the man informed Deputy Constable Charles Carpenter of Washington, who in turn notified state police.
The district attorney said Mrs. Miller Wednesday paid $150 to Carpenter as a "down payment." Carpenter then flashed a signal to waiting state policemen and they arrested Mrs. Miller.
Washington police quoted Mrs. Miller as saying:
"I agreed to meet him (Carpenter) of my husband because of ppsing of my husband because of unbearable home conditions."
Officers quoted her husband, an operator of heavy construction equipment, as saying his domestic difficulties were "no more than usual."

Objects to UN Forces on Her Soil

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Western Diplomats were reported today to be backing a Norwegian plan giving Dag Hammarskjold a major role in initiating President Eisenhower's Middle East peace plan.
Informed quarters said Norway was busy lining up sponsors for a resolution, which may be submitted before nightfall to the emergency session of the 81-nation General Assembly.
The United States and Britain, while working with Norway, have decided for tactical reasons not to be sponsors, informants said. Some neutral diplomats indicated the plan had a good chance of winning the required two-thirds majority.
Main points were:
1. The U. N. secretary general would be given responsibility for making whatever arrangements he believes necessary to safeguard the independence of Lebanon and Jordan so as to permit the withdrawal of U. S. and British troops from those countries.
2. Hammarskjold would be asked to study the question of setting up an economic foundation for the Middle East to help raise living standards.
3. Hammarskjold would also be asked to study the problem of establishing a mobile U. N. peace force for the Middle East.
Under the proposed plan, the secretary general would report back to the Assembly by Sept. 30. This means the Eisenhower proposals for economic development and a U. N. peace force would come before the regular Assembly session opening Sept. 16.
The American and British delegations to the U. N. Assembly's emergency session on the Middle East hoped, however, that Jordan (Turn to Page Seven)

No Indications Of Relief From Long Heat Wave

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The season's longest heat wave showed no indication of a general breakup today. Only minor temperature changes have occurred in most parts of the country during the last 24 hours.
In the Northeast, which got a brief spell of relief from the warm and humid weather Thursday, southerly winds fanned hot air in from the south and eastern Great Lakes region in to northern New England. Temperatures of 70 degrees were reported during the night as far north as northern Vermont.
A northwesterly flow of cooler air from Canada dipped into northern parts of Minnesota and Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. Temperatures dropped in to the 60s or near 60. Showers brought temporary relief to some parts of the country.
However, readings were in the 70s or near 80 in most sections from the central and southern Plains eastward to the Atlantic Coast.

Last Trace of Segregation In State Schools Disappears

HARRISBURG (AP)—The last trace of racial segregation in Pennsylvania public schools has been obliterated, the State Public Instruction Department reported today.
When school doors open in three weeks the three segregated school districts—disclosed in a surprise report last year—will be fully integrated, the department said.
The three are Kennett Square and Coatesville, in Chester County, and Steelton-Highspire in Dauphin County.
The disclosure that there were segregated schools in Pennsylvania came as a shock to government officials and most citizens. The report came at a time when integration problems in southern schools were capturing the national spotlight.
However, the Public Instruction Department pointed out that no

Number Contracts Approved At Northern Area Meeting

At the August meeting of Northern Area Joint School Board, conducted by President Travers Stohberg, members approved contracts of Robert Glarner, of Hazleton, as social studies teacher; Mrs. Hazel Collins, Warren, English and German instructor, both in Eisenhower High School. Interviews are being conducted this week to fill a vacancy in the commercial department.

Personnel Chairman Floyd Marsh presented resignations of two high school teachers, Paul Felton, English, and David Spencer, social studies. Both were accepted with regret. The administration was authorized to consider combining of the Lander school secretary's position with another half-time position for one year.

Approval was given two bids for school boilers. That of Arden Walter, $5,025, will provide a gas burner in one of the high school boilers; another, from Wilcox Brothers in the sum of $2,720, will provide a new sectional coal-burning boiler to replace the present one in the high school. Both items are expected to be ready for use by the start of the heating season.

Several additional items were presented by Alden Abbott, building committee, and Norge Luvison, administrative assistant. The board approved processing a waiver to right of damages incurred in reconstruction of Route 957 at the site of the high school; Mr. Luvison and the building committee were authorized to seek bids for new, adequate electrical facilities at Lander School.

Administrators and custodians were instructed to refuse all use of Sugar Grove gymnasium until a lease arrangement has been concluded with a community group, or until October 8, when it will be put up for official bid if not previously leased.

Delegates to the School Directors' conference at Indiana sent their reports; the supervising principal reviewed the annual school administrators' conference at Penn State in July.

Secretary Hazel Kays' report included current bills, $1,850 for elementary schools and $2,590 for secondary schools, and payment was authorized.

Acknowledged was receipt of $5,204.32 from the state as adjustment in instruction and nurse service reimbursement received during the 1957-1958 fiscal year. It also presented the annual bill for rental of the high school building due in September, which a change in cost calculation has reduced from $81,024.36 to $79,638.33 per year.

Transportation problems resulting from a recently-imposed detour from Route 957 and added student numbers were discussed briefly by Emerson Spicer, chairman of the transportation committee. It was decided to call a meeting of that committee and bus contractors to consider these matters Wednesday, September 3.

Harold Landin, high school principal, reported a recent release from the state's Department of Public Instruction may necessitate lengthening Northern Area's school day. He was instructed to act as necessary after final and official direction is received from Harrisburg.

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — How can you tell whether a man's really a big shot in the big city?

It isn't as simple as it used to be in "Diamond Jim" Brady's day. Anybody could tell at a glance Brady was important. He'd have a diamond stud in his shirt the size of an ox's eyeball. And on his right arm he usually was wearing Lillian Russell, one of the famous theatrical figures of his day.

But success today isn't so ostentatious. You have to look for the prestige symbols.

What are they? A survey of office peasants here revealed that, in their opinion, a man has truly arrived if —

He goes to lunch at 1 p. m. instead of noon.

He is on an unlimited expense account.

He comes to work at 9:30 instead of 9 a. m., and leaves at either 4:30 or 6:30 — depending on his whim.

He never has any cash in his pocket, and if he wants a newspaper off the corner stand, whoever he's walking with has to pay for it.

He carries an attache case. (The slimmer the case the more important he is.)

He has at least two personal secretaries. (An executive who has to share his secretary with another executive is a hopeless failure in the modern office hierarchy.)

His office has a closed door. It has wall-to-wall carpeting and the paintings on the wall are originals. Somewhere in it is at least one live green plant, which he and one of his secretaries — the prettier one — playfully water together.

He has a wife who is a committee chairman of a socially acceptable charity, and gets her picture in the paper once a year — but no oftener.

He heads the annual drive of another socially acceptable charity, and gets his picture in the paper for a good cause once a year — but no oftener.

He plays golf and bridge, but believes pinocle is the name of a famous children's book.

He has a big home in the outer suburbs, and a small apartment in the city — so he won't have to stay at a hotel if he works late.

He has two cars, a small foreign sports car for the country, a long black limousine for the city.

These tests measure well the rating of anyone in the average office aristocracy except the chairman of the board himself.

He busts all the rules. He wears dollar neckties, drives a 10-year-old cheap automobile because that was the kind he liked when he was younger. He eats an apple for lunch, then takes a nap on company time. But he gets into the office at 8:30 a. m. because he gets an oldtime kick out of being the first one to arrive at work.

That's the big goal today, to become such a big shot you can act like a little shot again, and enjoy the simple things of life in your own way.

YOUNGSVILLE

YOUNGSVILLE—Red Circle of the Methodist church enjoyed a picnic at the home of Mrs. Margaret Knapp at 1:00 p. m. Wednesday. President Alice Shurwin was in charge of the meeting and program; Mrs. Adella Kellerman reviewed the last chapter in the book the Circle has been reading; Betty Knapp conducted devotions.

Mrs. Georgia Kinnear will be hostess for the next meeting, with Mrs. Essie Pierce, the program chairman and Mrs. Kinnear, devotional leader.

Mrs. Monroe Lindell, Davis street, who suffered a severe injury to her back Monday in a fall, is improving at Warren General Hospital, where she will remain for several more days.

Details Revealed Concerning Court Case of Interest

Details of a litigation involving compensation under the Pennsylvania Occupational Disease Act of considerable local interest are contained in the following statement just received by the Times-Mirror:

On May 3, 1956, Wadter Holt, filed a petition seeking compensation under the Pennsylvania Occupational Disease Act and alleged that he became totally disabled on January 14, 1955, as a result of beryllium poisoning while in the employ of Sunray Electric, Inc., now Interlectric Corporation. Hearings were held before Referee John H. Cartwright who found that Mr. Holt was exposed to beryllium dust during his employment with Sunray Electric, Inc., now Interlectric Corporation, from September 29, 1947 to January 14, 1955, and that the claimant was totally disabled on the latter date as a result of beryllium poisoning. The defendant company appealed to the Workmen's Compensation Board which rejected the Referee's findings of fact, conclusions of law and award of compensation and substituted, in lieu thereof, its own findings and conclusions of law.

The Board found that the claimant was exposed to beryllium dust from September 29, 1947 to May of 1949, and not thereafter; that the Act bringing beryllium poisoning within the enumerated occupational diseases did not become effective until July 1, 1949, and that since the claimant was not exposed to beryllium dust after the effective date of the Act, he was not entitled to compensation. The Board further concluded that since the claimant's compensable disability did not occur within three years after his last exposure to the beryllium hazard, he is not entitled to compensation, and reversed the decision of the Referee and dismissed the claimant's petition. The claimant appealed to the Court of Common Pleas of Warren County, and Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr., set aside the findings and conclusions of the Workmen's Compensation Board, and reversed the order of the Board dismissing the claimant's petition, and remanded the record to the Board so that it may make new findings and conclusions not inconsistent with the opinion and order of the Court.

The defendant company appealed to the Superior Court of Pennsylvania from the order of the Court of Common Pleas of Warren County. Argument on this appeal was held before the Superior Court on March 27, 1958 at Philadelphia. Attorney Harold S. Hampson and Attorney Edward E. Petrillo, Erie, represented the claimant, and Attorney Joseph H. Goldstein, represented the defendant company. The Superior Court in an opinion filed June 11th, 1958 reversed the judgment and order of the lower court. Counsel for the claimant petitioned the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania for an allowance of an appeal from the Superior Court, and the Supreme Court by Order dated August 7th, 1958 denied the petition.

CRUISE OF THE NAUTILUS
The first crossings of the Atlantic by air were memorable milestones. Their heroes still are celebrated. But today the spanning of the oceans by plane is routine.
So it may be one day with under-ice crossings of the North Pole by submarine. But the pioneer passage by the U. S. atomic submarine Nautilus is a great event, another conquest of the unknown.
Men today are probing tentatively into outer space. They have climbed the world's highest peaks and explored the ocean's depths. They have scratched their way across the trackless wilderness on many continents.
In numbers the American submarine fleet does not match the Soviet Union's. But in daring and spirit it stands unequalled.

Marlow Looks At TODAY'S NEWS

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's idea for some organization to develop the Mideast has been kicking around in one form or another for at least two years. He proposed it this week to the United Nations.
This was a switch. Until now the Eisenhower administration had relied mainly on a different approach to the problem of helping the Arab countries develop industrially, agriculturally, and so on.
The emphasis had been on dealing with the nations individually and giving them help individually.
What Eisenhower offers now is a broad, regional Mideast development organization to be run by the Arabs themselves with the money and technical help coming from interested countries, like the United States, and from private capital.
This would, if the President's words can be interpreted correctly, put the Arab-run organization outside the U. N.
Almost two years ago—on Dec. 20, 1956—Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) suggested a regional, rather than individual country-by-country, development plan. But he differed from Eisenhower in suggesting it be handled through the U. N.
The idea, in various forms, has grown since then.
Humphrey laid out his idea after the Suez Canal crisis of 1956. That was when Britain, France and Israel attacked Egypt after Egyptian President Nasser's seizure of the canal that summer.
Nasser—perhaps during a temper tantrum—looked the canal after

CORNPLANTERS PRESENT 3RD ANNUAL DRUM CORPS COMPETITION

Here and There
Arthur McGonigle, Republican candidate for Governor, traveling with his wife and mother, was slightly delayed in arriving at the GOP picnic Wednesday evening. In regretting the tardiness, the guest speaker explained that he had returned to Philadelphia at midnight Tuesday evening; drove to Harrisburg yesterday morning, leaving there to fly to Franklin. Weather conditions cancelled the planned flight to Warren making it necessary for the group to make the trip by car. Assemblyman Allen Gibson and Burgess William Rice, unaware of the change in plans, spent considerable time away from festivities to await McGonigle's arrival, but upon being advised of the situation returned to Island Park in time to hear most of the candidate's inspiring remarks. In a lighter vein, before launching into his dynamic political talk, Mr. McGonigle commented that, as a businessman, he was willing to bet that he'd shaken more hands, kissed more babies and admired more beautiful hats during his campaign than any other businessman in the entire 48 states. He also told his audience that he was the father of three children and grandfather to three. A fourth grandchild, expected on Election Day, November 4, was, in his opinion, to be his prize for winning.
Bits of water in the shapes of telephones, dumbbells, pancakes, hot dogs, ducks and innumerable other unlikely objects pelted down on farms and towns, bringing life to the soil and welcome coolness to the city. These are raindrops, which rarely take the teardrop shape tradition assigns them, the National Geographic Society says. As they fall, raindrops may change from one form to another, then back to the first again. Such oscillations happen about 16 times a second, according to scientists who have watched them through high-speed photography. Rain is a phase in the great water cycle, a perpetual motion machine on a grand scale powered by the sun. Over the earth's surface the energy expended in the cycle is beyond counting. A single summer thunderstorm dwarfs the output of an atomic bomb. The sun warms water in the sea or on land, causing it to evaporate. The warm air rises, carrying vapor, until high enough to cool. Then the vapor condenses into droplets so tiny it takes between one and 10 million of them to form a raindrop. A cloud is simply a mass of such droplets, too small and light to fall through the air currents that support them. Although every step needed to coalesce these droplets into bigger drops is not quite clear, meteorologists believe there are two basic methods by which it happens. One process begins when some droplets in a cloud are larger than others. Being heavier, these fall through the air faster. As they fall they overtake smaller droplets. Collisions add to the droplets' size. Falling faster and faster as they gather weight, they eventually drop out the bottom of the cloud as rain. The second process starts when water vapor is carried so high—some thunderclouds are five miles tall—that part of it freezes into ice. By a complex interaction between the particles of ice and remaining droplets of water cooled below the freezing point, the ice pellets grow. They also collide with droplets and gather them up in the turbulent winds inside a thunderhead—up to 70 miles an hour. The process continues until the pieces of ice become large enough to fall through the updrafts. Usually they melt to form raindrops before reaching the ground. If they do not, they are called hail. Although hailstones up to 17 inches in circumference have been recorded, raindrops never reach such a size. The largest is about a quarter of an inch in diameter. Bigger drops break up as they fall through the air. The "gentle pitter-patter" of raindrops when they strike the earth is an illusion. Each drop can smash down with force enough to splash loose particles from naked soil, and throw them aside. The dirt tends to move downhill, giving rise to "sheet erosion" in which no gullies are formed but whole fields slip away.

Communist Power Politics Are All There On Record
By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—President Eisenhower, if he ever meets Khrushchev at the Summit, could throw the record book of Communist indirect aggression at Nikita.
The idea would be to expose fully Russia's long list of moves in a great chess game of power politics. Its objective is to take over the entire Middle East by converting its countries—first into neutral nations—then into a bloc of Communist satellites.
There is no longer any doubt about Russian ambitions and goals. American and British intelligence files are filled with evidence of Russia's penetration into the Middle East.
This has been done by diplomatic pressure, military aid, economic warfare, and Communist party subversion. Each of these activities will be dealt with briefly in later articles in this series.
IN STRAIGHT, ruthless power politics, the record goes back to the Stalin-Hitler pact of 1939. That was when the two dictators tried to divide their future spheres of influence.
For Russia, Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov demanded military bases in Turkey from the Black Sea to the Mediterranean and control over an Iranian corridor to the Persian Gulf.
By a 1926 treaty with the old Shah of Persia, Russia had the right to move into Iran if that country was invaded by a third power. So when Hitler double-crossed Stalin and declared war on Russia in 1941, the Russians occupied northern Iran.
They did this with the approval of the British, who moved into Southern Iran at the same time. Their deal was that both sides would evacuate within six months after the war's end.
But the Russians didn't get out. They held on to Azerbaijan and tried to convert it into a Communist satellite. It took strong pressure by the U.S. and the U.K. in the United Nations to get them out—six months later.
IN TURKEY, Molotov demanded two Turkish provinces, Kars and Ardahan, on the Armenian border. Turkey rejected these demands in January, 1946. She was backed by the United States.
President Truman's Doctrine of 1947 resulted in a $250,000,000 military and economic aid program for Greece and Turkey. It unquestionably saved those two countries.
While Russia was concentrating on the Communist take-over in China and the Korean and Vietnamese wars, Red pressure on the Middle East was relaxed.
But in 1953 Russia made a barter deal with Pakistan. In 1954 there was a new economic agreement with Iran. Two years later Russia tried to "normalize" relations with Turkey.
These deals were unsuccessful efforts to keep those countries out of the Baghdad Pact alliance of Moslem countries on Russia's southwestern borders.
FORMATION OF THIS mutual defense alliance, supported by the U.S. and the U.K., revived Russian interest in the Middle East. And in 1955 the Russians seized the opportunity to move into this theater of operations with every resource she had.
In 1954 Moscow had been so unconcerned about the Nasser revolution overthrow of King Farouk's government in Egypt that the revolution was dismissed as a "reactionary" movement.
The next year, however, Russia became a Middle East power. The way for it was paved by a trip which Russian Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov made through Syria, Lebanon and Egypt.
In Cairo, Shepilov made the deal by which President Nasser obtained arms from Czechoslovakia, announced in September, 1955. That was the beginning of the new Soviet conquest of the Middle

On Aug. 15, 2008, despite some heavy moon-bound traffic, the earth made its complete turn in space in the usual elapsed time of 23 hours, 56 minutes, 4.091 seconds.
It was a day like all other days. Some history was made, some footnotes were added. Some people died, some were born, humanity inched forward.
In Moscow, the Linsky government had won complete control and began downgrading the Malinsky government, which had downgraded the Shmolsky government, which long before had downgraded the Khrushchev government for making a cult out of world travel.
In the United States, inflation had finally been halted and once more a housewife could buy a loaf of white bread for $2.89.
Her husband, the average American, set out for the office in a car 36 feet long, 18 inches high. He drove lying down, steering with his feet, his eyes on a small TV screen in the ceiling. Air experts predicted that in the future helicopters, rather than autos, would be commonplace.
It was, as usual, a busy day in Washington.
The President of the United States, a former physicist, told his biannual press conference: "E plus M2 minus W equals NG12." Early English translation: "I'm going to Saturn for the weekend."
The State Department said it was still hopeful of obtaining recognition from the government in Dallas.
An eight-star general, chairman of the Consolidated Chiefs of the Combined Chiefs of the Joint Chiefs of Staffs, testified that an atomic-missile war was imminent unless the Army were given complete control. Another congressional committee was told the nation's economy could easily withstand a deficit of $990,000,000,000,000.
Out of Mt. Rushmore, South Dakota, workmen were chiseling in the profile of Richard M. Nixon.
On television, Americans and viewers around the world enjoyed varied fare on their 20-by-20-foot screens. Most of the programs came from a global TV headquarters set up in the Taj Mahal in India.
The late show this day featured a TV first, a movie called "The Bridge on the River Kwai." Earlier in the evening, viewers watched, in living, deliciously gruesome color, an actual prefrontal lobotomy operation followed by a quiet interlude of candid, cross-sectional views of a living cancer followed by an inspirational wrestling match between two midgets and a bull atop the Eiffel Tower.
In Honolulu, the first major league baseball game ever played on the islands was won by the recently transplanted Oahu Giants, who defeated the transplanted New Hebrides Dodgers 18-1 in a pitcher's duel. Only 16 homers were hit over the short, left-field orchid wall.

NEW YORK (AP)—A light you cannot see is adding today to its big role in the missile age by finding more civilian chores to do for industry.
It discovers an incipient hot box before a railroad train must grind to a stop and costly halt. This same infrared radiation checks on the internal wear and tear in machinery parts before they break down. Or it detects potential explosion conditions in oil tanks—in time to save lives.
Infrared radiation is an invisible part of the electromagnetic spectrum. Your eyes can't pick it up, but everything that has molecular movement (and some awfully solid things do) gives it off.
Science has learned to measure the rays and record the internal heat they reveal.
In World War II the Sniper scope, with an infrared sighting mechanism developed in the 1930's by the Radio Corp. of America, let U.S. soldiers look down their rifles and see the whereabouts of enemy soldiers at night while themselves remaining hidden to the naked eye.
Today the Sidewinder, a deadly missile with a guidance system by General Electric, uses infrared to track down an enemy plane. Infrared also goes into the bombights.
Industry is adapting these military uses for some needs formerly closed to it.
The Servo Corp. of America, New Hyde Park, N. Y., has a Servotherm infrared pyrometer to measure temperatures of objects from a distance. Oil companies can use infrared to check on temperatures in tanks and flow lines. Refineries use infrared devices to make continuous steam analyses in refineries.
The Chesapeake and Ohio and the New York Central use Servo hot box detectors to spot cars with overheated bearings.
Among other companies making infrared devices are Beckman Instruments, Avco Research Laboratories, Perkin-Elmer Corp., Aerojet-General Corp. and Barnes Engineering Co.
Metalworking plants have found infrared a help in testing castings and continuous welds. The atomic industry uses such devices to test materials and their resistance to radiation.
The medical profession is trying them out to determine temperature distribution over the human body. And scientists are using infrared cameras to do the same thing in studying plant life.

Forced Marriage Is Too-Late 'Solution' to Dating Habits

Jim and Julie, both under 18, were married last week. Though both sets of parents were present at the wedding, it was not a happy occasion. Jim and Julie, who have been going steady for two years, were married because Julie is going to have a child. Both are having to quit school without their high school diplomas. Julie is giving up her girlhood and Jim is giving up his chance to prepare himself to earn a good living, to do something he wants to do. He will have to take any kind of job he can get. The parents are stunned by the mess their kids have made of their young lives. When are parents going to wake up to the fact that "going steady" isn't just a harmless, teen-age fad? But that instead, steady dating is putting so great a strain on teen-agers that many of them are bound to wind up like Jim and Julie? Parents do their best to teach their children right from wrong. Why then should they let them get themselves in situations where it becomes increasingly more difficult for them to do right? The truth is that parents are so afraid of making their children "different" that they are afraid to say, "I don't care whether EVERYBODY goes steady or not. You aren't old enough to go steady—and you aren't going to."

Unless the majority of parents in every community get enough starchy in their backbones to take that stand, we are going to have an increasing number of American tragedies, like Jim's and Julie's. (All rights reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

Sets November Date

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Barbara Ann Heinz, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Emil Curt Heinz, of Cleveland, O., to Philip Lewis Tome, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Tome, of Corydon. The marriage will take place in Cleveland on November 22. Mr. Tome is a graduate of Bradford Senior High School, Class of 1955, and is presently employed in Cleveland after attending Pennsylvania State University for a year and a half.

MORIAH LUTHERAN EVANGELISM EMPHASIS
LUDLOW—In a meeting held last week, the committee on evangelism for Moriah Lutheran church planned to coordinate activities with a letter this week and the 11:00 a. m. service Sunday. Last Sunday, Pastor Carl Eliason preached on the topic "The Doomed City"; and flowers placed in the sanctuary included a prize gladioli raised by Oiger Wallin. At a congregational meeting following the service, it was decided to paint the church and parsonage.

A Moriah youth team, Carol Ralston, Janelle Carlson, Dick Carlson and Ken Larson, attended a special Youth Rally of the Allegheny Area Evangelism Mission held in St. Paul's church in Warren. The 70 youth and seven adults present represented Oil City, Titusville, Jamestown, Sheffield, Ludlow, Warren, Falconer, Lakewood and Frewsburg. Under the Rev. Charles Lundquist of Oil City, area youth director, the young people were taught the purposes and desires of the Mission, aims of visitation, the blessing of sharing Christ with their neighbors.

50th Anniversary of Former County Folks

Family and friends from the entire area gathered last Saturday afternoon in the Garden Room of Corry VFW to honor Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Phillips on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

Harry Phillips and the former Amanda Crippen were married at Dunkirk, N. Y., in 1908, the Rev. J. G. Ginader officiating. Attendants were the bride's sister, Anna, who is now Mrs. Frank Kelly of Boston; the late Mrs. Mabel Carlson, of Youngsville; and the late Clayton Jackson, of Irvine.

Following their marriage, the couple lived in Youngsville and Union City until they moved to Corry approximately 25 years ago. Prior to his retirement, Mr. Phillips was employed as a painter and interior decorator. They have 10 children, 36 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

More than 200 relatives and friends gathered to help them observe the milestone, including her sister, Mrs. Nick Manick, and husband, of Youngsville; Mr. and Mrs. Allan Benedict, Irvine; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shedd, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Crippen, Mr. and Mrs. William Crippen, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Finlan, George Crippen and Miss Jean Jackson, all of Youngsville.

As part of the day's activities, the couple repeated their marriage vows Saturday morning in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Cyril Cooper in St. Thomas the Apostle church in Corry.

Their many lovely gifts included a purse of money; also a beautiful cuckoo clock sent by their grandson, Pef. Edward Hatch, who is with the Army in Germany.

At Wichita Falls last month all Norths opened one no-trump and the final contracts was always four hearts. The transfer bid players responded two diamonds and North became declarer. With the advantage of having the big hand concealed they made either four or five odd. At the other tables South became declarer and while no one made five odd, all but one made the game.

Mrs. Jack Hammond succeeded in beating four hearts by a courageous play. Martha opened the queen of clubs. South won in dummy, drew trumps and led the nine of spades. Martha played a low spade without batting an eyelash and South let the nine ride. You can't blame South. He could not suspect that Martha would have failed to split her honors and had to gamble the way he did. He was finessing against one ten spot only and East held it. Now South had to lose four tricks and went down one.

A little less attention than the day's session at the United Nations in New York. In its 9,483rd veto, Russia killed an American proposal to extend the U. N. mandate on the moon on the grounds it was a procedural rather than a substantive question. And in a tiny television studio in the Bronx, Archie Moore once more defended his light heavyweight title successfully. Thus went Aug. 15, 2008, a day like all other days.

Joint Committee Of Brokenstraw Holds Meeting

Employment of teachers for the new fall term coming up, and business of routine nature, occupied the Joint Committee of Brokenstraw Valley Joint Schools, at its August meeting.

Mrs. Eleonora Turnage, Edinboro, was employed as elementary art teacher. Mrs. Turnage is a recent graduate of Edinboro State Teachers' College and will teach and supervise art in grades one through six in all of the Brokenstraw Valley Joint Schools.

A one-semester sabbatical leave extension was granted to Orval B. Borton. Mr. Borton has been on sabbatical leave, due to illness, since January, 1958, and expects to return to the classroom in January, 1959. John C. Green, Niagara Falls, N. Y., a recent graduate of Alfred University, has accepted the position of language teacher in Youngville High School, his contract having been approved at the July meeting.

A letter of resignation was received from Cleve J. Reynolds, custodian for many years in local schools.

A supplementary contract as assistant football coach, for the school year 1958-59, was approved for William Beichner, who will assist head coach Joseph Frelick with the varsity squad.

Plans for dedication of Youngville High School Athletic Field were discussed and a committee, Ernest Oviatt, president, Charles Camp, vice president, and Donald Abraham, president of Youngville Borough Board, was named to work with faculty members and student representatives to arrange for dedication of the field at one of the home football games.

In his report, Supervising Principal, H. J. Sherwood recommended member districts that building rental payments for the current year are due September 1 as follows: Brokenstraw, $8,412.20; Eldred, $3,456.70; Freehold, $2,997.65; Pittsfield, $6,144.83; Youngville, $13,764.17.

There was considerable discussion of the annual report of the cafeteria operation, the six cafeterias in the school district operated for the school year 1957-58 at a deficit of $3,875.48. The board decided not to increase the price of student lunches, at least at present.

It recommended every effort be made to curtail operating expenses in an attempt to make the cafeterias more nearly self-supporting, and it was pointed out in the discussion that the major causes of the deficit were the decrease in the amount of surplus food made available to the cafeterias by the government and the 2c per month decrease in the amount of state reimbursement for student lunches.

Both of these items are uncertain at the beginning of the school year and there is a possibility there may be increases in these items for the year 1958-59. Student lunches will continue to be offered at $25c.

Warren Twirling Corps Will Perform Saturday

Performing in the Spectacle of Music Saturday will be the Warren Twirling Corps under the direction of Beverly Johnson. The Corps will include in their performance—strutting, drill maneuvers and twirling.

The Warren Twirling Corps was formed in July of 1957 with twelve girls who were interested in marching and twirling together. They practiced together with the remainder of the summer and in November officially joined the National Baton Twirling Association, becoming Chapter No. 291 of that organization. They continued their work together adding a few new members and in the spring added their own drum section. They have marched with a temporary color guard this year and by next summer will have a permanent one.

In their first parade and only out of town parade they tied for second place against older and more experienced teams. They have marched in various parades in town this summer and another year they hope to have sufficient funds to permit a more active schedule.

And in case you find it too harrowing to look the opening date up on the calendar, school starts in less than three weeks.

HOSPITAL RUMOR DENIED

Rumors that the Erie Veterans Administration hospital would be closed were denied officially Tuesday in Washington, D. C. The U. S. Veterans Administration said it is not contemplating any plans to curtail—much less close—the hospital. An official statement by Dr. Roy A. Wolford, deputy chief medical director of the VA Department of Medicine and Surgery, said the VA has considered no plans to close the Erie Veterans hospital and that the agency intends to continue to provide the hospitalization of eligible veterans in the Erie hospital as it has heretofore. Fears that the hospital would be closed were expressed recently at the American Legion convention in Philadelphia. As late as last Sunday night, Legion officials from four North-western Pennsylvania districts met in Warren to discuss action to oppose any attempt to discontinue the hospital.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was in a lull in early trading today in the wake of a move toward tighter credit by the Federal Reserve Board.

A flurry of selling at the opening drove prices down fractions to a little more than a point. Prices then held at about these levels in slower trading. A few stocks recouped part of their losses.

ful appearance. They are top contenders for the Canadian Championship this year. The Apple Knockers can be remembered from their appearance in the Fourth of July celebration a few years ago. With new uniforms and also a new field drill this year they will be tough to reckon with.

Hilton Crusaders of Hilton, N. Y., will be featuring an all-girl color guard, something seldom seen in Class A drills. Hilton has completed with such corps as Rolly Raiders, state champions of 1954, the Rochester Grey Knights, the renowned Skokie Indians, the National Champions of 1957, and countless other. Brockport-Batavia Cavaliers are also a well known corps in New York State. Outfitted in striking red and blue, the Cavaliers will add the final touch to the competition with a sparkling drill and add to the suspense-filled question, who will be first.

Warren Twirling Corps under direction of Miss Beverly Johnson will take to the field at 7:40 p. m. and give the sparkling performance for which they have become so well known. At 8 p. m. the colors will be posted and immediately after the Cornplanter will step over the line with their new music and drill that has already captivated the spectators at rehearsal. This will be the Cornplanter's first appearance on the field as a Class A corp and excitement and spirit is running high in the ranks of the corps.

After the show this week, Cornplanter will be hard at work on the field drill again in preparation for their first Class A contest which will be in Johnsonburg Labor Day. This promises to be a colorful and exciting weekend in Warren and probably one of the highlights of the season.

A reminder reserve tickets may be obtained at Waxman's Furniture Store.

The Cornplanter and the Chief Cornplanter Post 135 of the American Legion take this opportunity to extend thanks to the people of Warren and the surrounding communities for very fine support in helping to make a show such as this possible.

event after another for the boys.

Cheers of well-wishers greeted Manford when he was whisked via police escort from his car, to the lobby of the Sheraton-Mayflower Hotel, where he mounted the golden stairs. After his rousing welcome, Manford was specially outfitted with a Derbytown uniform and taken to the camp where he will stay for the remainder of his holiday.

Today, Manford visits famous Derby Downs, where he takes a test run in his racer, and makes a complete check-up and last minute inspection to see that his car is in fine running condition for the big day.

Saturday is Fun Day for the champs... the celebrities visit the camp, and the business men don aprons and chef hats to serve a delicious barbecue dinner to the boys. The boys also enjoy swimming, boating and horseback riding.

Sunday, race day, at Akron Derby Downs, will see the 21st running of the All-American get under way promptly at 2:00 P. M. The first round heats will be run according to the official drawings made on Thursday.

Attending the race from Warren to cheer Manford on to victory, will be his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Rydholm, and two sisters, Gloria and Jean; Warren County Derby Director Harry Spackman, with Mrs. Spackman, and 8-year-old son, Harry, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lesser, Gordon Drum, Mark Nagel, John Donaldson, who will carry the local boys via auto to the race, and Mr. and Mrs. Dana Harland, who will provide publicity and cover the local champ on Derby Day.

The Jaycees and co-sponsors, Times-Mirror, and Dan's Chevrolet, join in wishing the best of luck to their champ, Manford Rydholm, as he competes in the All-American classic Sunday, August 17.

At Elizabethtown, 17-year-old Dale Killefner, recalled how his sister, Audrey, 21, had prayed "there would be no accidents."

She and her fiancée, John Hollinger, 22, of Manheim, planned to be married at Christmas. Both were passengers on the flight.

Another Elizabethtown resident, Mrs. Eby Espenshade, explained that she and her son, Tom, had made a similar trip last year and that her husband, a passenger on the downed plane, went alone this year "to get even."

to consider all eventualities, even those unlikely to arise.

The rumors apparently traced back to a study begun in 1951 by the Rand Corp., an independent, nonprofit organization which engages in national security research. Rand, which has a contract with the Air Force, analyzed the ways in which other countries have surrendered in the past.

The study, completed last year, was recently published in book form with the title "Strategic Surrender, the Politics of Victory and Defeat."

But Rand denied that the study dealt with any possible American setback.

"Nowhere do the study or the book deal with any hypothetical U. S. surrender," the firm said. "The question of negotiating with an opponent of the U. S. in a wartime situation is treated solely in the context of a termination of a war in which the U. S. would be victorious."

Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) said he had studied the Rand report and had found nothing smacking of any suggestions of American surrender.

Russell said he was offering his rider as reassurance to the American people and free nations that the United States wouldn't quit in any atomic conflict.

Senators Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.) and John S. Cooper (R-Ky.) asked Russell to withdraw his amendment and not insist on a vote.

Adoption of the rider, Capehart said, would permit the Soviets to boast that Congress had to act to keep the President and the secretary of state from planning America's capitulation to the Soviets.

dan's turnout was only a token gesture. "A lady never says yes right away," one Western official said.

Plans were also under way for another trip by U. N. Secretary Dag Hammarskjold to the Middle East during which he could try to persuade King Hussein's government to admit a U. N. force to his threatened kingdom.

Jordanian Delegate Abdel Monem Rifai jolted the Assembly Thursday by declaring his government would not agree to permit either U. N. observers or military units on Jordan territory.

"What Jordan needs and asks for," he said, "is material assistance to reinforce its own army and security forces."

Such a refusal could torpedo efforts by the United States and Britain to put through a formal proposal for replacement of their troops in Lebanon and Jordan with U. N. contingents.

Both the West and the Soviet Union had been in tacit agreement that U. N. units of some sort should take over.

The United States continued sounding out delegations on a tentative resolution which would embody the main parts of President Eisenhower's six-point plan to bring peace to the Middle East.

Informed sources said that one part of the resolution would suggest that Hammarskjold go to Jordan and Lebanon to work out procedures that would allow withdrawal of the U. S. and British forces.

Support was reported growing for a rival Indian resolution which also would send Hammarskjold to the trouble area.

Two other proposals were brought up in Assembly debate. Irish Foreign Minister Frank Aiken proposed neutralization of the entire Middle East under U. N. guarantee.

Australian Delegate E. Donald Walker urged formation of a Middle East commission to investigate and report on outside interference and subversion.

U. S. Easing Trade Curbs On Red Bloc

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is reluctantly easing its curbs on trade with the Soviet Bloc in Europe.

It is doing so under pressure from allies and American businessmen in search of new markets.

The Commerce Department announced it plans a substantial cut in the list of 922 items banned in any U. S. trade with the Communists.

All trade with Red China, North Korea and North Viet Nam continues to be prohibited, however.

And some items, especially in fields like chemistry and electronics, will be added to the list of commodities prohibited in U. S. trade with the Soviet Union and the Soviet satellites of Eastern Europe.

Officials could specify no particular items to be lifted from the control list. They said no decision had yet been made except the general one announced by Secretary of Commerce Weeks after a four-month consultation at Paris with 14 other free world trading nations.

"Significant changes are being made in U. S. export controls," Weeks said. "These changes will lead to a net reduction of U. S. controls."

Other officials said there will be a substantial cutback in the number of items banned in U. S.-Communist bloc trade.

Some metals will be included among decontrolled goods, they said.

The 15 nations which met at Paris included Japan and all the North Atlantic Treaty members except Iceland.

They agreed upon a master list of 120 items banned in Red trade and 35 to be watched for possible embargoing if they appeared to be "strategic"—that is potentially helpful to Chinese-Soviet war power.

This represents about a 50 percent cutback in the previous list of banned items adopted in 1954.

The master list is kept secret. But the member nations generally published their own lists drawn from the recommended items agreed upon at the 15-nation session.

Warnings Issued To Prepare for Hurricane Cleo

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Persons in the Windward and Leeward Islands of the south Atlantic were told today to ready themselves for quick action if Hurricane Cleo should threaten their area.

Cleo, first hurricane of the season, marched along today at 15 m.p.h. bearing west-northwest about 700 miles east of Martinique, French Antilles, or about 2,200 miles east-southeast of Miami.

Highest winds in Cleo were estimated at 145 m.p.h. near the center. Hurricane force winds extended 75 miles to the north of the center and 50 miles to the south.

The Weather Bureau said the hurricane is expected to maintain its present intensity and increase slightly in size during the next 12 hours.

"This is a severe hurricane," the bureau said.

At the Air Force Missile Test Center at Cape Canaveral on Florida's east coast, Cleo was seen as no threat to the Air Force's attempt to launch a moon rocket, scheduled for Sunday morning.

Cleo's predecessor, Becky, was believed to have degenerated into a wide area of squalls with few if any characteristics of a tropical storm.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

HOW AMERICANS WORSHIP

The Cross, the Cup, the bended knee . . . these are but a few of the symbols and signs of an ancient faith that has endured through 20 centuries. Oldest and largest of Christian organizations, the Roman Catholic church has flourished in America, side by side with her Protestant neighbors. Of this country's 100 million and more church members, about one third are Catholics. As a religious artist, intent on exploring every facet of my chosen subject, I have attended many a Catholic service. Soon after I first entered one Catholic church, the magnificent ceremony of the Mass began. The eternal beauty of this ancient faith glowed in the eyes of the priest when he raised the chalice at the consecration and repeated Christ's words at the Last Supper: "Take ye all and drink of this, for this is the chalice of My blood, and of the new and eternal covenant, the mystery of faith, which shall be shed for you and for many unto the forgiveness of sins."

Kiwanians Learn Another Lesson From Junior Team

Bob Anstadt, of Bell Telephone, does his darndest to connect and belt the ole pill right out of the ball park. He almost made it, too . . . Kiwanis Senior and Junior teams line up for Everett Stoke. The weather was perfect, and if you can believe the smiles on the seniors faces, everybody enjoyed themselves tremendously. Memorial Field playground was the scene of the slaughter, the kids winning with a score of 17 to 14. . . . Jack Logan, of Logan's Men's Shop, was caught in this Mickey Mantle pose, though it's kind of hard to tell whether he just fanned the air, or whether he really sent the ball over the fence. Rumor had it, the umpire was slightly prejudiced in the juniors' favor, but the seniors sure tried. Timesphotos by Stoke.

No person remembered to bring an adding machine and as a result the same old problem arose when the Kiwanis Club Seniors played the Junior team they sponsor in the Hot Stove League at War Memorial Field playground last evening. However, in spite of objections registered by sideline "observers," the Times-Mirror scribe, designated as "official score keeper" after nine grueling innings, the last being played in semi-darkness, making it difficult to check the speeding runners, decided that the men had gone down to defeat again by a score of 17 to 14.

The juveniles won out in spite of a wild spurt staged in the final canto after first baseman Bove and Bob Anstadt had both sent sizzling liners into the glove of Wooster, on the mound for the boys. Benjamin sent a grass cutter across the third base bag for a single, just before Dick Betts sent a skyraider in left center that became lost in the fast approaching darkness much to the chagrin of Pierce and Colvin, who were supposed to be guarding that particular area of the East Side flats at the time.

Anyhow, it was a game that provided amusement and apprehension for the large crowd of spectators, including wives of some of the Seniors in action. Incidentally, it also resulted in a spurt of business for dry cleaners.

The Seniors scored two in the first, just how, is immaterial at the moment. They went runless in the second and third, but came back in the fourth to chase across seven tallies before they became exhausted. Another came over in the sixth, two more in the eighth and the final pair in the ninth as chronicled above.

The Juniors score one each in the first and second, two in the third, two in the fourth, and three in the fifth, but were held scoreless in the sixth, coming back to count for each in the seventh and eighth.

Raising special commendation was the umpiring of the veteran Harry Wooster, who insisted on keeping the game on an impartial level, in spite of the fact that there was a Wooster playing with the Juniors, along with the rather unusual and somewhat incriminating development of his being kept supplied with cigars by the publicity man for the Kiwanians.

The teams lined up as follows:

Seniors: Colvin, cf; Wooster, p; Sedar, 2b; Henry, 1b; Forslund, 3b; Zaffino, ss; DeRosin, c; Pierce, lf; Haslet, rf.
Juniors: D. Wagner, c; D. Bove, 1b; R. Anstadt, 2b; J. Benjamin, ss; R. Betts, p; S. Glass, cf; M. Marshall, 3b; J. Logan, lf, and B. Snider, rf.

Engineer Insists Dam No Threat To Salamanca

SALAMANCA, N. Y.—An Army engineer denied categorically Wednesday that the Kinzua Dam would pose a flood threat to this city.

In rebuttal to a declaration by Dr. Arthur E. Morgan July 22 in a speech here that the controversial dam would cause flood damage to Salamanca, Col. W. W. Smith, Jr. of Pittsburgh said in a statement:

"The Allegheny Reservoir, had it been available, would have completely controlled all floods of record in the upper Allegheny River basin. None of these floods would have completely filled the reservoir and the reservoir therefore would not have had any adverse effect on Salamanca."

Dr. Morgan, who is consulting engineer for the Seneca Nations of Indians—bitter foes of the dam—had contended that the dam would "not be big enough" and that it would provide less than half of the storage needed for a theoretical "spillway design flood," greater than any flood ever recorded.

Col. Smith felt that even with such a theoretical storm, operation of the Kinzua dam would not have any significant adverse effect on Salamanca. "Such a heavy rainfall would cause heavy water damage in Salamanca, whether there was a Kinzua dam or not," he said.

Dr. Morgan had urged a diversion canal from the Allegheny River near Coldspring to a vast storage reservoir in the Conewango Valley with an outlet into the Conewango Creek near Waterboro and another outlet to Lake Erie via the Cattaraugus Creek. He said this would be cheaper, provide better flood control, more water storage aid better recreation facilities.

Col. Smith cited studies of the Army Engineers and of an independent engineering firm which he said showed that "the Allegheny Reservoir would be the most feasible from an economic standpoint."

As for recreation, Col. Smith said that the summer pool created by the dam would reach to Red House and would have an area of 12,050 acres or 188 square miles, adjoining Allegheny State Park and the Allegheny National Forest.

Florence Mourer gave a very interesting report of the state convention which she attended in Philadelphia in July.

Fish Commission Announces Dates For Examinations

The Pennsylvania Fish Commission has announced that applications for Fish Warden trainee positions are being accepted, and set September 8 as the application deadline for examinations scheduled on September 17 in Harrisburg.

According to William Voigt, Jr., executive director of the Commission, qualified applicants who successfully pass the written and oral examinations and measure up to the rigid physical qualifications, will constitute a new eligibility list for duty assignments as positions in the warden force become open. Due to warden retirements, resignations and recent deaths, trainees on the eligibility list established earlier this year have all been assigned to duty, with one vacancy still existing. This vacancy will be filled shortly after the forthcoming examination with the strong possibility that a second new assignment will be made before the year's end.

Standard application forms may be obtained from W. W. Britton, chief enforcement officer of the Commission in Harrisburg.

According to Britton, the applicants must fill the following qualifications: residence in Pennsylvania for no less than two years immediately prior to filing application, be between 21 and 39 years of age, minimum weight of 150 lbs., minimum height of 5 feet 8 inches, high school graduation or certified equivalent and no record of misdemeanor or felony conviction.

Britton also disclosed the salary of $3742 for the year served in trainee status. Satisfactory performance will be followed by a full warden commission at $3925 per year and on merit, to a maximum of $5,007 per annum. He added that successful applicants will not be assigned to their home counties and must accept transfers during their service at the pleasure of the Commission. In addition to the salary, wardens are given a monthly allowance for travel and meals away from their headquarters.

The September 17 examination will include tests in English, social studies, arithmetic, high school science, spelling, fish, boating, and game laws and nature and outdoor living. Only those applicants who complete these examinations with an average of 70% or better will be considered for the eligibility list.

Two Men Fatally Injured in Crash At Little Valley

LITTLE VALLEY—Two men were fatally injured and a third hurt in an auto crash at 8 p. m. Thursday on Haskell Rd., a mile north of Rt. 17 in the Portland area.

Donald Root, 20, of 215 Warden St., Olean, died of a broken neck, fractured skull and internal injuries, according to Cattaraugus County Coroner William McDuffy of Olean. Dead on arrival at Olean General Hospital was Charles F. Magee, 27, of 76 Third St., Allegany. McDuffy listed cause of death as a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Hurt was William O. Gaylor, 27, of Olean, who was in "apparently good" condition late Thursday night. He suffered face and head cuts.

Both vehicles were traveling south on the road when they collided, Cattaraugus County Sheriff Morgan L. Sigel reported.

Gaylor, operator of one of the cars involved, told deputies he fell asleep while driving. He was alone in the vehicle.

Root and Magee were in the other car. It is not known which man was operating it, Sigel said. Both cars were demolished.

Power Steals Home Twice in Game Against Detroit Tigers

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Because the Detroit Tigers mistook the improbable for the impossible, Cleveland's Vic Power stands alone today as the only man in American League history to steal home twice in one game.

No one had done it in the majors in 47 years and only two National Leaguers before that. Power hasn't stolen even one base through 106 games this season, and had managed just seven thefts in 636 games in the majors.

Yet he slipped in for Cleveland's last two runs Thursday, scooting home with the winner in the 10th inning as the Indians beat the Tigers 10-9.

Joe Tinker of the Chicago Cubs set the record by stealing home twice June 28, 1910. The only other man to do it was Larry Doyle of the old New York Giants, Sept. 18, 1911.

Tom Morgan was pitching when Power's first steal capped a five-run eighth that overcame a 7-4 lead. Frank Larry was caught by the second steal.

The Tigers were left in a third-place tie with the Boston Red Sox, who were belted 8-2 by the league-leading New York Yankees. The Chicago White Sox, 14½ games behind, strengthened their hold on second by beating Kansas City 5-2 in the only other AL game.

In the National League, a joint one-hitter by Joey Jay and Warren Spahn gave the Milwaukee Braves a 3-0 victory at Cincinnati. San Francisco defeated St. Louis 4-3 and Los Angeles rapped the Chicago Cubs 7-3.

The Indians blew a 3-0 first-inning lead, falling behind when Harvey Kuenn's three-run seventh homer capped a four-run Tiger sixth. Rocky Colavito's 26th homer, his second of the game, got the Indians rolling in the eighth and the long-injured Vic Wertz added a two-run, pinch-hit homer, his first of the year, for a 7-7 tie. Power singled home the tie-breaking run and moved around on an error and wild pitch for his dash home.

The Tigers scored two in the ninth for another tie before winner Gary Bell (7-6) came on for two perfect innings of relief. Singles by Power and Russ Nixon and a walk loaded the bases and set up Powers' payoff steal.

Johnny Kucks won his eighth for the Yankees with six innings of shutout relief. The Yankees scored three in the first off loser Dave Sisler (7-6), who went out with a bruise above the left ankle after being hit by a Tony Kubek drive that battered in the deciding run.

Luis Aparicio, who got things started with a double, lined an RBI single that capped a four-run sixth for the White Sox. Ray Moore won his ninth with a five-hitter, blanking the A's until the eighth. Bud Daley 2-2 lost it.

Pitching — Joey Jay, Braves, gave up eight walks and finally gave way to reliever Warren Spahn in the ninth, but yielded only one hit for a 3-0 victory over the Redlegs in his first start in two weeks because of an arm injury.

Hitting — Rocky Colavito, Indians, drove in three runs and hit a pair of homers in 10-9, 10-inning victory over the Tigers.

Kinzua Valley Tournament Scheduled for August 24th

Top-notch par-shooters and high-handicappers are preparing for the Kinzua Valley Open Tournament to be held at Kinzua Course Sunday, August 24.

Operator of the course, Les Sheldon has had his crew busy for weeks preparing for the event and barring another torrential rain as suffered Tuesday evening, the layout should be in top-notch shape.

The event invites golfers from the entire area with handicaps from scratch to 50 to compete for the trophies and golf equipment.

Entry fee of $5 includes green fees, lunch and facilities of the course. Entry blanks are now being distributed through the club-owner, Sheldon and his tournament committee, headed by George Eberhardt and long-hitting Jim McCool.

Defending champion in the low-handicap group, Joe Brindis is expected to find tough competition from such players as "Skip" Morine, Dick Krapfel, Ross Fisher, Arch (Sam) Brobst, Johnny Smith, Tony Creal, Joe Scallie, Jim McCool, Bob Blair, Bill Simonson, Bob Johnson, Tink Wolfe and many others, while 2nd flight will have no defender, as G. B. Ricardo, winner last year, has moved

Clarion Speed Boat Races

Top speedboat racers of Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio region will compete in a program of 20 races to be run on Clarion River at Clarion Sunday under sponsorship of Clarion volunteer fire department.

It will be the seventh annual speedboat regatta sponsored by CVFD. Entries for the event now exceed 100.

Boats to be seen in action include the skittering "punkinseed" hydroplanes, bigger boats in the utility class and all other outboard craft which are usually raced. Climax is a "free-for-all" race in which there is no ceiling on horsepower and in which any outboard racing boat may compete.

Race course is located on Clarion River at the Route 966 bridge. Clarion's steep banks offer fine viewing points, the course makes a turn almost under the long bridge providing a "grandstand", standing just a few feet above backstretch and homestretch.

Free buses will transport fans from Clarion's business district to the river. Admission fees are low and children are admitted free.

The races are being held under ruling of American Power Boat Association and sanction by Tri-State Racing Association.

away. However, George Konkol, Walt (Sheriff) Dremann, Westy Ensworth, Bob Daye, George Eberhardt and Keith Culbertson, among many 80-shooters, are expected to give the field a tough test.

Third flight winner, Don James will be there to defend his title and a fourth flight has also been added.

First Flight will include those who score from 72 to 79, 2nd Flight from 80-89, 3rd Flight from 90-99 and 4th Flight over 100.

There will also be prizes for longest ball hit on No. 6, with McCool, Ross Fisher and Harold Cawley favored, plus closest to pin on No. 9, anybody's wig, plus many other events for the 18-hole contest. Prizes will be golf clubs, other equipment and a long list of top-quality golf balls.

Another attraction scheduled for 8:45 a. m., is a demonstration by Robert Blair of his now-famous coat hanger shot, expected to take only a few minutes.

Tee-off time will be at 9:00 a. m. and lunch will be served, starting at 12 noon.

Stengel Shift In Game At Boston Is Explained

BOSTON (AP)—New York Manager Casey Stengel was asked Thursday why he sent Enos Slaughter to pinchhit for pitcher Duke Maas against Boston in the fourth inning with the Yankees ahead 3-2.

"I had heard in the third inning that a manager (Birdie Tebbetts) just lost a job," Stengel replied. "So I got a little nervous and decided to get some runs."

LAST HOT STOVE

Tony Tomassoni reminds all managers and ward chairmen to return all Hot Stove League World Series tickets and money to his home, 23 South South, by tomorrow. It will then be decided who wins the three prizes for highest ticket sales.

All-Stars Ready To Make Daring Try To Beat Lions

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The All-Stars start Operation Ozone tonight. They are expected to make a daring effort to beat the Detroit Lions, champions of the National Football League.

The 25th All-Star promises to draw 70,000 spectators to Soldier Field. It will be televised and broadcast nationally by ABC starting at 8:30 p. m. EST.

The Lions rule a solid 13½ point favorite to gain a 16th decision for the pros in the rivalry. The All-Stars have won seven times, the last being 30-27 over the Cleveland Browns in 1955, and have held the championships to two stand-stills.

In two other appearances in the classic the Lions have treated the All-Stars as morsels. They beat them 24-10 in 1953 and 31-6 in 1954.

With Tobin Rote and Bobby Layne giving a powerful one-two punch at quarterback, the Lions again are preparing for a feast.

Probably their two busiest men will be Durrin McCord and Gene Cronin, defensive ends. They are assigned to barge into the All-Star backfield in an attempt to smear passing plans.

But don't get the idea the collegiate sensations of 1957—many of whom already are under contract to NHL clubs—are lambs being led to slaughter. They have the passers, speedy receivers and break-away runners to make the Lions pant.

And they have Otto Graham as head coach with a staff of former pros who know what to expect.

Perhaps their offense will be keyed by a series of flat passes from King Hill of Rice or Jim Ninowski of Michigan State to such quick-footed halfbacks as Jim Pace of Michigan; Dick Christy of North Carolina; Bob Mitchell of Illinois; Phil King of Vanderbilt; and Len Lyles of Louisville.

Other targets are such ball-grasping ends as Fred Dugan of Dayton; Jim Gibbons of Iowa; Bob Jewett of Michigan State, and Tom Schulte of East Kentucky State.

The game will be played under pro rules permitting free substitution. The forecast is for fair and pleasant weather with temperatures in the 70's.

Eagles Look for Big Things From Andy Nacrelli

By FRED B. WALTERS

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles have waited a long time for Chester's Andy Nacrelli. They think now maybe it was worth it.

The 6-foot-1, 195-pound end who played for St. James High of Chester and later Fordham has grown four years older since the Eagles picked him in the college draft for the 1955 National Football League season.

He played football in Canada, in '55, then went into the Army for two years.

When Nacrelli reported to the Eagles' camp here this year they were in the market for pass receivers to augment the throwing of Norman V. Brocklin, Los Angeles Rams' passing star traded to the Eagles earlier this year.

Only Bobby Walston was around to lend credence to the blarney that the Eagles would have a passing attack this fall. In the weeks since, however, two men have developed into bright prospects in silver-haired Coach Buck Shaw's passing patterns. One is former Oklahoma University back Tommy McDonald. Nacrelli is the other.

According to one Eagles' official Shaw is "high as a kite" on the 25-year-old Chester player. Shaw, himself, admits to being pleased by Nacrelli's performance.

Burch-Ruth Memorial program at Stateline Speedway Saturday night will bring to the oval more than thirty late model stock cars for the 8:15 event. Late models will be preceded by a series of races for quarter-midgets. Miniature racers are driven by youngsters from 6 to 12 years, and will be featured in a 20-lap affair. Several trophies will be awarded to the young leadfoots, some of whom will be competing for the first time.

Full racing card will be climaxed by a 50-lap feature race, for which a beautiful trophy awaits the winner, in memory of two former racing mechanics from Onoville who died recently in a highway accident. A purse of $2,000 also awaits the pilots, plus double points.

With 100 coveted tallies going to the first man to complete the 50-laps of the main event, fans can expect more of the hard driving which produced the eighteen car pile-up two weeks ago. Extremely close competition among the point leaders this season has produced a highly unstable situation in Top Ten standings. Jim Patrick of Wellsville heads the list, being nudged by Jamestown's John Seeley, only 16 points behind. Squirt Johns and Dean Layfield are also close enough to grab the lead, should another mass tangle wash out other top men.

The 50-lap memorial race will be started according to point standings, with the following line-up:

On The Pole—Jim Patrick, Squirt Johns, Marv Thorpe, Kez Johnson, Bud Gardner, Emory Mahan, Bud Pheasant, Ryle Russell, Cliff Coons, Johnny McGinley, Jim Fiebelkorn, Bud Fanele, Dean Schimp, Jim Scott, Buzz Barton, Eddie Kisko, Don Bailey.

New Head Coach of Eagles Is Determined To Make Good

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — New head coach Buck Shaw says he is trying to build a fire under the Philadelphia Eagles that City Fire Commissioner Frank McNamee, club president, can't extinguish with one of his fire engines.

Shaw, sixth Philadelphia coach in nine years, knows he's on a hot spot. He knows the men who run the Eagles haven't demonstrated patience as a virtue. But he isn't the least concerned.

Standing on the sidelines watching 45 players running through drills at this training site, the silver-haired coach commented: "I have a one-year contract. I'll do the best I can. If they are not happy with me or I'm not happy with them at the end of the year there will be no hard feelings. We'll part company."

With that out of the way he turned to a discussion of the job at hand, moulding a team capable of making loud noises in the

Softball League Plans Playoffs Starting Monday

City Softball League will begin Shaughnessy playoff series on West Side field Monday night at 6:30 with Betts Machine meeting Jones Chevrolet of Sheffield. The series will be usual two out of three.

Soda Mineral, league champions, and Nino's Restaurant, fourth place winner, will meet in a later series.

Winners of these two playoffs will meet in a three out of five series.

Two leading teams of the league are to be congratulated for their fine play in Meadowville tournament August 8-10. Only a lack of pitching depth kept this tournament from being a possible all Warren playoff between Soda Mineral and Betts Machine. Each team had at least two fine pitchers, but teams from Farrell, Meadowville and others came up with three or four very tough pitchers.

It is hoped that in the near future Warren can have tournaments of their own so that local leagues can show Warren fans "some real good softball." Plans are still in progress for a softball field at the West Side diamond, with a possibility of bleachers, dugouts and lights.

A league meeting will be conducted from Times-Mirror Wednesday evening at 8:30. All managers are asked to be present.

Redlegs Hit New Season Low in Batting Futility

CINCINNATI (AP) — A solemn-faced man and his wife sat in a box at Crosley Field Thursday night and watched the Cincinnati Redlegs hit a season low in batting futility.

It was Birdie Tebbets who earlier in the day had quit as manager of the Redlegs saying "I believe that it is better for Cincinnati baseball that someone succeed me."

Thursday night he watched the Redlegs lose chance after chance to get something going for the lack of a few base hits. It was the same problem he had been fighting all season. Only it was worse for Jimmy Dykes, who had taken over as acting manager.

The Redlegs got only one hit off Joey Jay in eight innings and none off Warren Spahn in one in a 3-0 victory by the Milwaukee Braves.

Tebbetts and his wife sat with Redleg general manager Gabe Paul. Earlier, Paul had said, "I certainly would recommend him to another organization. I have never worked with a manager who was more cooperative."

Down in the Redleg clubhouse, the retiring manager also got a big boost from several of his players.

"It's a lousy shame," said pitcher Joe Nuxhall. "He's a great guy."

Outfielder Gus Bell said, "players made the mistakes—who doesn't—but they, the fans took it out on Birdie..."

A chorus of boos has greeted Tebbetts of late as the Redlegs sagged and finally dropped into last place.

Tebbetts reportedly was being paid $35,000 to $40,000 a year. He will be paid off for the rest of this season but the 1959 portion of his contract will be canceled.

Attendance Record Not Threatened in L. A.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It is now evident that the Los Angeles Dodgers have no more chance of setting a National League attendance record this year than they have of winning the pennant.

To achieve the former, they would just about have to do the latter.

With 17 home dates left, the Dodgers must draw an average of more than 43,000 per game to surpass the record of 2,215,404 established by the Braves last season.

Thursday, in the final game of a series with the Chicago Cubs, the Dodgers attracted exactly 6,194 paid — the smallest crowd of the year here. In the Coliseum, which seats 94,000 for baseball, the fans hardly seemed to outnumber the ushers.

Aussies Threaten To Clinch Three Berths at Newport

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — It was up to Ronald Holmberg of New York and Kosei Kamo of Japan to keep the Australian delegation from winning three out of four berths in the Newport Invitation Tennis Tournament semifinals today.

Holmberg, seeded No. 5, takes on second-seeded Ashley Cooper in one of the lofer bracket quarterfinals. And unseeded Kamo meets third-seeded Neale Fraser in the other.

Holmberg and Kamo have a precedent in that fourth-seeded Alejandro Ornela of Peru, a student at the University of Southern California, eliminated eighth-seeded Robert Mark of Australia in a top bracket quarterfinal Thursday, 7-5, 6-3, 6-2.

An Aussie eliminated an Aussie in the other top-bracket match—a match which may have aged defending champion Mal Anderson considerably.

Youngster Carries Lead in Senior Open Tourney

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Mike Demassey, a comparative youngster from Stockton, Calif., who just made the 50-year age limit, put on a short game exhibition for the old timers and carried a two stroke lead into today's second round of the $16,000 National Senior Open Golf Championship.

Demassey put together nines of 32-32 Thursday for a record-tying 6 under par 64 on the Esmeralda Course. Next best was the 34-32—66 effort of Gene Sarazen, 65-year-old golfing dean from Germantown, N. Y.

Willie Goggin, San Jose, Calif., had a 67, seven players were bunched at 69 and only two others managed to equal par 70.

First nickelodeon in the United States opened at Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1905.

Speaking of Sports

More football — Brockway gridders reported this morning for physicals. Coach Charles Zoffuto welcomed all 10th, 11th, and 12th graders.

Too bad the greatest Pirate fan of them all—Rosey Rosewell—is not on this earth today to enjoy the Bucs current success. If anyone deserved a pennant winner, it was Rosey. No doubt his famous "Aunt Minny" is making sure he knows the good news.

Apparently the news of the record number of holes-in-one in Chautauqua County gets around. Don W. Haggerty, Libertyville, Illinois, turned up at Moon Brook course in Jamestown Wednesday and aced a hole-in-one on the 197-yard 13th hole, using a six-iron.

Mostly 1958 cars are expected for the 300-mile USAC-MARC national championship auto race at Trenton Speedway Labor Day. Both convertible and closed machines in '58-'59 models will be seen in whole-sale numbers on the world-famous course. All 48 states will be well represented.

One of Nation's Greatest Grid Coaches Is Dead

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Death apparently from a heart attack Thursday ended the career of one of America's great football coaches, Henry (Red) Sanders of UCLA. He was 53.

Sanders, who came here from Vanderbilt in 1949 and developed UCLA Bruin teams of powerful pre-eminence, died in a second floor room of a small hotel near the downtown area.

A blonde woman, about 30, who identified herself as Ernestine Drake, was sitting in a chair a few feet from Sanders' body when police arrived. She said she was with him when he died. He was wearing pants, shoes and socks but no shirt.

"He complained of the heat," Miss Drake said. "He ordered two soft drinks brought to the room. We talked of football and I said I didn't follow the game. 'Football is a great game,' he said. 'You should come out this fall and see a few games.' Those were his last words."

Miss Drake said Sanders suddenly clutched his chest and rolled over on one side of the bed. She said she ran for help, and when she returned she found him on the floor.

She told a reporter she is a clothes model, born in Vienna. "I didn't know he was a famous football coach," she said. Sanders had no record of a heart ailment, but homicide detective R. T. Reid said a heart attack apparently caused death. An autopsy will be performed.

New Cadet Team Wins First Game By Score of 8-3

An Independent team composed of former Cadet players in Hot Stove League, has been organized into City Cadet Independent team under the careful observation of Steve Massa, Sr. Boys picked for the team are "good hustlers and like to play ball," according to Massa.

First game for the new team was played against Kinzua last evening, defeating them at Kinzua, 8-3. Ponsoli, Bliss in the sixth, and Suppa catching composed Warren's winning batteries; Platt, Matson for Kinzua.

The team is comprised of the following top notch cadet-bracket players: John Ponsoli, Danny Suppa and Ronnie Bonavita from J. & R. Esso; Doug Wilson from Penn Furnace; Bill Larson, Warren Elks; Denny Shield, Bert Bliss and Bruce McCarty, Mack's News; Jim Seder, Steve Massa, Jr., and Jimmy Thompson, Interlectric.

Bill Massa is "running" the team who will host Kinzua in a return game on Jackson Field Tuesday night at 6. Wednesday evening, the Independents will travel to Kane where they will oppose Kane players in the same age group. Previous to the contest, former Kane High track star and now running for Penn State, Ed Moran, will give an exhibition of running. Ed has just returned to this country after being a part of the track team that competed against Russia, Greece, Finland and other European countries for three weeks.

Other games are scheduled with Jamestown and Titusville, more to be added soon.

Fighters Leave Training Camps For TV Studios

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Heavyweight challenger Roy Harris says he'd be willing to fight champion Floyd Patterson winner-take-all, but the champ thinks the Texan is just spooftin'.

Both left their training camps Thursday for a local television appearance during which Harris claimed he'd be willing to take nary a penny should he lose Monday night.

Patterson, who knows Harris stands to collect $100,000 win or lose, answered: "I think that's moreoon a joke. I don't think Roy really thinks that way."

They left the point that way. Both appeared calm, collected and unlike two gladiators who will box Monday over a 15-round route for the world's heavyweight championship.

Floyd's manager Gus D-Amato, and former heavyweight champion Joe Louis both challenged the top-heavy odds favoring the champion—some quoted as high as 8 to 1.

"I just don't believe it" declared Cus. And Louis added: "I think Harris has an excellent chance. When Patterson fought Moore he was over the hill. Jackson was through and Pete Rademacher was an amateur."

Patterson won the crown when he knocked out Archie Moore in Chicago on Nov. 30, 1956, in five rounds.

Harris' schedule today remained somewhat doubtful. He may spar at his Arrowhead Springs camp or he may not. Patterson was slated for a final full workout.

Spahn Sent in by Haney to Save Game for Joey

By ED WILES
Associated Press Sports Writer
A very conservative guy, this Fred Haney who manages the world champion Milwaukee Braves.

He went into the last of the ninth leading 3-0 at Cincinnati Thursday night with young Joey Jay pitching a one-hitter. But when Joey gave up his eighth walk to the leadoff man, Haney, up to his tobacco pocket in pitching, pulled no less than 15-game winner Warren Spahn out of the bullpen for a mopup job against the last-place Reds.

Spahn did just that, completing the one-hit shutout and padding the Braves' National League lead to six games over Pittsburgh's idle second-place Pirates.

The third-place San Francisco Giants defeated St. Louis 4-3, and Los Angeles rapped the Chicago Cubs 7-3 in the only other NL games scheduled.

Jay walked the Cincinnati lead-off man in six innings. But the Braves backed him up with two double plays. The only hit he allowed was a leadoff single by Jerry Lynch in the sixth inning.

Billy Bruton homered for the Braves off Don Newcombe in the first and Wes Covington scored on a triple and error for a 2-0 edge in the second.

The Giants cracked a 1-all tie on Daryl Spencer's 13th home run in the seventh inning then put it away when Willie Mays homered and Orlando Cepeda hit an RBI double in a two-run eighth. Johnny Antonelli won his 13th.

Veteran Amos Stagg To Coach Junior College

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — You probably never heard of Stockton Junior College's football team unless you live nearby. But it's a safe bet you've heard of the man who will show up shortly to teach the boys how to kick — Amos Alonzo Stagg.

Just 96 years young today, the white-haired dean of football coaches is counting the days until Sept. 1 when he will begin his 68th consecutive year of coaching. His punting advisory role, which he's been filling since 1953, is a far cry from his 41 years as head coach at Chicago. But it keeps the Yale All-America end of the '80s in touch.

KNIGHTS TO HAVE EXAMINATIONS LATER
Northern Area Knights will not have their football physicals until Wednesday, August 27. Dr. George Biley will then give the examinations to prospective team members in Eisenhower High School at 6:50 p. m. First practice session is slated for September 1. Juniors will be composing the nucleus of the 1958 squad. Norge Luvison is head coach.

Plans Under Way for Annual Boy Scout Roundup

Plans are now under way for the 1958 roundup of the Boy Scouts of America according to Scout Executive Elmer Morgan of the Chief Complanter Council, which has its headquarters at Warren.

Through the 1958 roundup, the Boy Scouts of America seeks to bring more boys into its Cub Scout packs, Boy Scout troops, and Explorer units; to attract and train men of high character as unit leaders; to recognize successful boy leadership; to provide opportunities of service to others; and to recognize the part that good uniforming plays in the organization.

Mr. Morgan said that the local council is eager to meet its responsibility to make certain that every boy who wants to join gets that opportunity. At the present time there are 1100 boys enrolled in 52 units of the council. This represents a gain over last year. During the past year, several additional Cub Scout packs, Boy Scout troops, and Explorer units were organized.

A program of neighborhood activities to be launched this fall includes a series of neighborhood roundup rallies at which non-Scouts will be guests.

During September, Scout units will hold "buddy night" meetings. Each member will be asked to invite friends of Scout age to see how a unit meeting is run and to try Scouting skills.

Scouting is a movement organized and promoted for character building, citizenship training, and physical fitness of the boyhood of America. Its programs are used by churches, schools, community institutions, and service clubs, which receive charters annually from the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America. These groups provide meeting places, trained leadership, and moral support for their units.

Scouting has three different age-level programs. Boys of eight, nine, and ten are enrolled as Cub Scouts whose program is home-centered and relates to their lives at home, school, and in the community and religious world.

Boys eleven years and older in Boy Scouting keep busy learning outdoor skills—first aid, signaling, cooking, and camping, while acquiring many traits of good citizenship.

Exploring, based on needs and desires of young men, is for boys fourteen years old and in ninth grade or fifteen and in any grade. Together with the companionship and counsel of mature men, Explorers receive experiences in democracy, leadership growth, vigorous outdoor activities, vocational explorations, and self-discipline—in short, preparation for adulthood.

Since the organization of the Boy Scouts of America in 1910, more than 28,000,000 boys and leaders have been enrolled and have subscribed to the Scout Oath and Law. Today's actively registered membership stands at 4,800,000 boys and leaders.

Park Crematorium, Etc. Has Opposition

A petition by Warren County Memorial Park to expand its operations into statutory sales, a crematorium and greenhouse was opposed Thursday afternoon by a battery of four attorneys representing most Warren area funeral directors and a monument saleswoman.

Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr., gave attorneys until Sept. 10 to file petitions stating exceptions to requests for additions to articles of incorporation asked by Memorial Park.

Warren County Memorial Park director George Ferver, only person interrogated by attorneys, stated he and his wife, Thelma, owned 75 of the corporation's 100 outstanding shares and he, Ferver, decided upon the stock holders' eventual dividend. He admitted his salary last year was $13,000.

Questioning by Attorney Warren M. Stone elicited the information that without licensing by the Funeral Directors Association the cemetery owners could not trespass upon the body preparation business.

Memorial Park owner Ferver petitioned the court to operate a crematorium, sell flowers and operate other allied funeral business enterprises "at a profit", according to answers to questions placed by Attorney James Frantz, Coneywango Township legal counsel consulted to find out why WCMPCA was to be continued as a tax exempt corporation.
